NORTHSIDE HIGH SCHOOL

2004

Changing Faces

Over the forty years since its doors first opened, Northside has experienced some imperative changes. Just imagine the Northside that you know with half of the parking, plenty of extra windows, no new building, no theater and you can forget air-conditioning! It is safe to say that Northside has evolved into a whole new school. Not only has Northside physically undergone a face-lift; faculty and students have changed as well.

Though many faces have changed, some faces have been at Northside for many years. There are those faculty members who are graduates of Northside, including Ms. Wilson, Mrs. Littlefield, Mr. Barnett and Ms. Hodge to name a few. Then there are those faculty members, Mr. Horne Mantiplay, been members since the their days of youth. Finally we have the new faces who have been embraced into the true blue family.

The students who roam these halls have also changed as the years have passed. Today's students are very tech-savvy and have access to many more resources than the students of earlier days. Means of discipline have undergone drastic changes, also. While students used to be paddled for breaking the rules, students now must serve detention time or sit for a few days in the In-School Suspension room.

Overall the face of Northside both internally and externally has undergone great change. From the school building to the faculty, from the students to the trends, many thing have changed but one thing remains-It's Great to be a Northside Eagle!

Above: You can still see the bright and smiling face of Mr. Horne here in the office or theater.

Bottom: Before parking places were in high demand, a view of the front of the building was primarily green rather than gray.

Twins have a closer bond than that of the average siblings. Some twins are identical in looks but have completely different personalities or visa versa. Here at Northside we have many sets of twins. Sometimes it very confusing to encounter two people who look almost alike.

Ms. Mayo says that she "couldn't tell the difference between Jessica and Katie Taylor until they dyed their hair!"

Although the incredibly close likeness of twins teachers, relation-stronger bond than that of two people born at the same time? There is a connection there that cannot be duplicated. Think about it-how would it feel to talk to your sibling, who, in essence, is a part of you?

Jessica Hargrove says, "my relationship with my twin is great. She is my best friend!!!"

It can also not be so great when people think that twins are one in the same person: Terrell Gray says that he and his brother "try to be as different as possible."

Even though twins may not be super close, they still have that strong bond that will never die, and here at NHS, we all have the unique opportunity to see them up close and "face to face!"

Scream 'til you're Blue in the Face

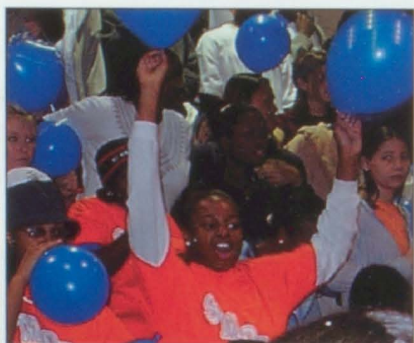

by: Kasey Miller
and Tonya Ray

The first pep rally for a freshman has to be an overwhelming experience. From the blue, orange, and white screaming faces, colored hair and spirited teachers, it is a shock and a thrill all at the same time. All the screaming and yelling students in the stands leave them wondering what all the chaos is about.

They soon learn that it's all about the big blue and white. They follow the lead of the Seniors, Juniors, and Sophomores and are soon screaming and yelling with the best of them.

Often there are spirit editions, each class chance of title of the spirited the time Week around this year, the Freshman class placed second in the Spirit Ribbon Contest, beaten only by the Seniors.

This pattern continues year after year, building onto the "Northside family," as Mr. Scott calls it. The Northside spirit grows on every student as they go through their high school years. They learn to show school spirit in new ways every year, from face painting and club involvement to game attendance and the love of Northside High School. Go Big Blue!

Put Your Game Face On

By: LeVita Clowers,
Destiny Foster, and
Daniel Troutman

Eyes narrowed, teeth gritting, cheek muscles tight. Got it down? Now you've just put your game face on-your Northside game face.

In sports, game faces are very important. They're distinctive of course, and often help to intimidate the other team.

Northside is very supportive of sports and strives for greatness, keeping a thought of confidence and the knowledge that it's all in the way you play the game. Whether rallies or Eagles spirit. In baseball, meets, wrestling; like our mascot, Northside, above the rest.

Many may think that it's just the players that show intensity, but they are just following the lead of teachers, administration, parents, and even alumni who have to keep up tradition that has been part of Northside since the first "game face" 40 years ago.

Through the good times and the bad times, the Northside family supports each other. Whether they show it or not, all the Eagles of Northside High School have their own game face, on or off the field. It's great to be a Northside Eagle — because at Northside, our blood runs blue.

Face the Music

by: Gina M. Durden
and Mallory A. Freitag

For years, music has been an important element of Northside High School. Many students are actively involved in programs that allow them to develop in music, channel their enthusiasm for the arts, and showcase their musical talents.

Through the years, Northside has opened doors of opportunity for numerous students who have excelled musically. The school also hosts many events where students can display their talent through competitions and performances. With its award-winning productions and performances, it is easy to say that Northside's music programs far surpass the standards of other schools.

To win its titles and awards, the members of each music program have to work diligently to perfect their art. Many music programs have mandatory classes that are attended during school hours. In addition to the skill gained during school hours, the students also spend many grueling hours after school perfecting their musical abilities. It is perhaps due to this extra effort that Northside has a top notch music and drama department.

Graduation announcements. Senior T-Shirts. Senior Barbeque. Spirit Week. Senior Ball. None of this would have been possible without the 26 elected individuals who make up Senior Exec. Every Wednesday this group met to deliberate over critical senior class decisions. From choosing the perfect graduation announcement that would please all to planning strategies to win the spirit competitions, Senior Exec was busy from the beginning of first semester to the end of the second.

Weekends. Afternoons. Sleeping in on Wednesdays. These are just a few of the sacrifices made by Senior Exec for the better of their class. Weekends were given up to make decorate the lobby and main hall for Spirit Week and again to prepare for senior ball. All of the decorations for senior events were completed after school, from spirit shakers to sparkling signs.

Senior Exec members were not the only ones to make our projects happen-thank you to all who helped make the class of 2004 soar above the rest!

OUTSTANDING SENIORS*OUTSTANDING S

As you take a look at the following 20 individuals, you will be looking at the faces that make Northside outstanding. These seniors work hard and dedicate themselves to define "outstanding" through their work ethics and extracurricular activities. From school activities, such as band and drama, to community involvement through youth groups and volunteer programs, everyone truly sees the best of Northside in these bright, young people.

Just as each of these individuals are different, so are their many talents. Some excel in athletic competition, while others showcase their talent on stage. Still others debate, volunteer or soar in academics.

It is their stamina and drive that fuel them to reach the highest goals. That same stamina and drive are paving the way to their bright futures.

So what exactly is the definition of "outstanding?" Just look over the next four pages...

jazmynBRAWNER

"I hope to be remembered as the girl who wasn't afraid to reach higher heights, tried her best to make everyday a new adventure, never allowed herself to give up and the 'most confused' girl who brightened everyone's day."

Junior Projects Committee

This year, the Junior Projects Committee has worked to provide for the needs of the Junior class. Members have worked many long hours creating signs and decorations for various activities. The committee is made up of 50 juniors who work long and hard to accomplish everything that must be done. J.P.C. is in charge of activities such as spirit week hall decorations and the Junior/Senior Prom.

Juniors have many fundraisers in order to pay for prom, such as magazine sales and the 3-on-3 tournament. The magazine sales are for all juniors and everyone who sells 5 magazine subscriptions receives a free ticket to prom. The 3-on-3 tournament is a good opportunity for basketball players to show their skills.

J.P.C. works hard all year and is a prime example of students with school spirit that overflows!

EAGLE FOOTBALL 2003

I think the players have worked extremely hard, they've improved a great deal. Seniors have provided great leadership. We've improved each week and we're looking forward to competing well in the playoffs.

-Coach Kinsler

Rodrick Hayward flies by the Stockbridge defense. The Eagles left them in the dust, 56-7.

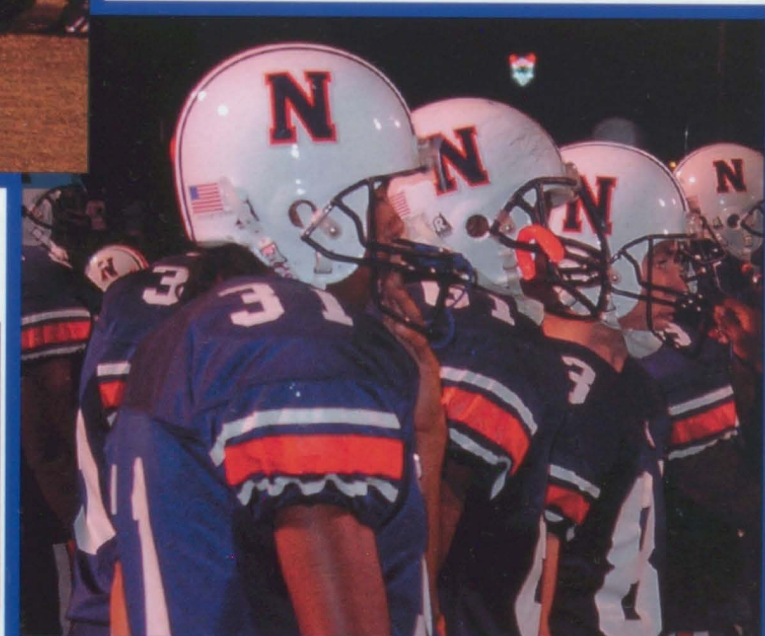

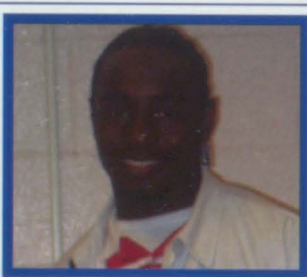

Northside players face off with Westside at the line of scrimmage.

The team watches intensely as the Eagles run for another touchdown.

Being a good football team comes with hard work and dedication. you have to be dedicated to how you carry yourself on and off the field. This season I think that we have some of the best players that have ever come through Northside. I think if you buy into the game plan we will make it to the Promised Land; that's the state championship.

"Being a part of Northside football and the Northside family means so much to me. I love the students and teachers that support Northside. My senior year has been great and I have so many memories. There were many doubts and worries about the 2003 Northside football team. With all the great players that graduated last year, the fans wondered just how great the Northside Eagles would be. However, the Eagles wasted no time in calming their fears with an amazing win over Peach County (11-10). After that, Northside had close games, like the (17-14) wins over Mt. Zion and Houston County, and landslides like Morrow (55-0) and Henry County (60-0), our Homecoming game.

In the annual City Championship game, Northside vs. Warner Robins, the Eagles stomped the Demons (37-16), our third-straight year as City Champions. The result of this game sent the Eagle football team searching for a State Championship and the Demon football team at home without a chance.

In the play-offs for the State Championship, the Eagles had an amazing start with a (47-0) victory over Bradwell Institute. The Eagles' winning streak was short-lived, however, as they suffered a tough loss to Newnan High (24-0) in the second round.

Even though the Northside Eagles did not win the State Championship this year, the entire Northside family is very proud of our Eagles and is looking forward to an awesome team and season next year.

Junior Varsity

Sara Jarvis

"It was really fun being a JV cheerleader. I made lots of new friends and worked really hard."

Kelicia Weathersby

"My experience as a JV cheerleader was great! And if I could change anything, it would be that I wished it lasted all season."

JV cheerleaders are varsity cheerleaders in training. Being on the JV squad gives them more time to mature and to develop their skills. Both squads do the same kinds of chants and cheers, but skill levels are more complex on the varsity level. It takes time and patience to be a great cheerleader. The experiences that are shared by the girls bond them more closely together and drive them to achieve more.

Reggie McDaniels

" I like it. It is really cool. I just hope I can get a new thing started at Northside."

Cheerleading has not always been considered a sport. The Northside Eagle cheerleaders have now let the community know that it is. Cheerleading has many obstacles that must be overcome. There are many things that the Northside Eagle cheerleaders are changing.

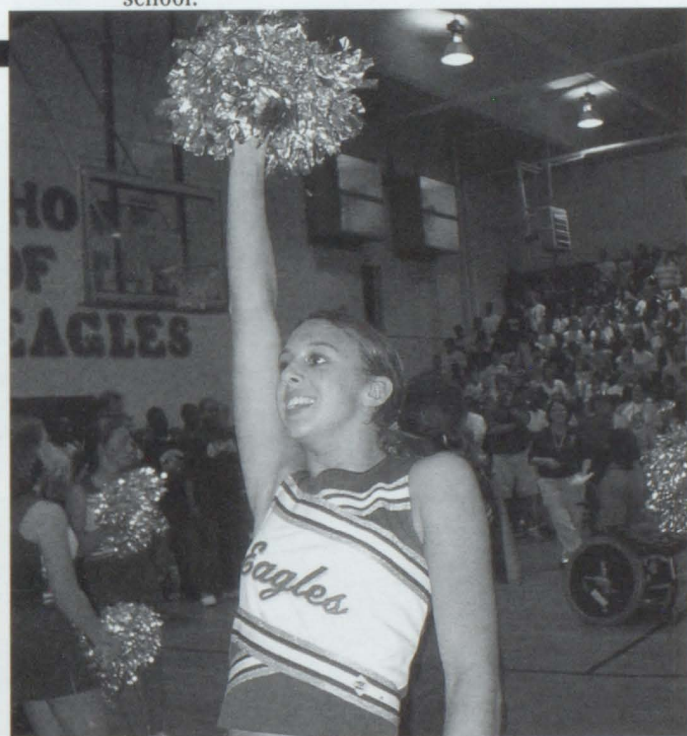

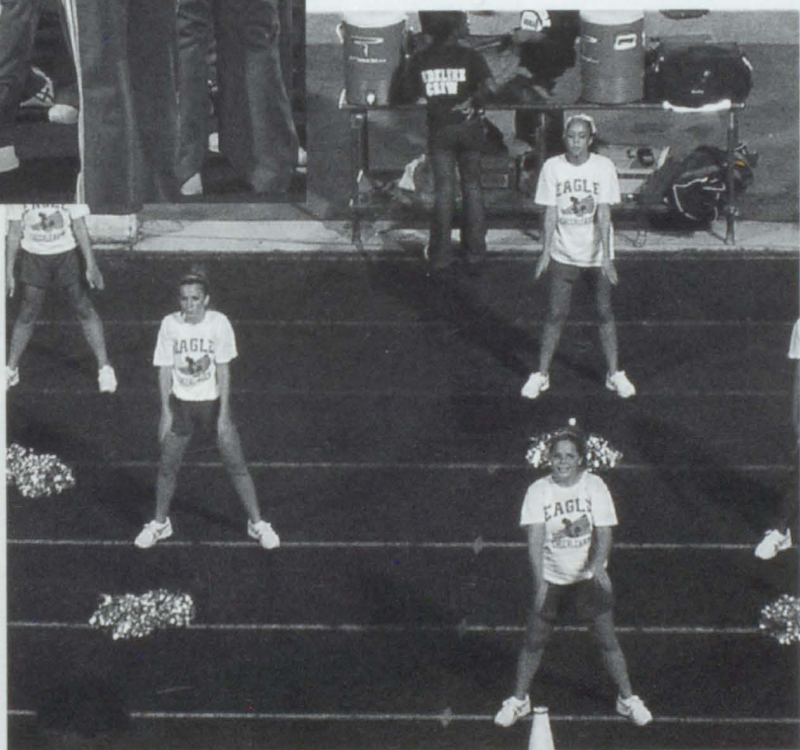

This year has opened up a door for new experiences. The Varsity cheerleading squad has given the chance to freshmen and sophomores to join them for the first time. This has never been an option for underclassmen. The females of the cheerleading squad have opened their hearts to the first male cheerleader at Northside. Reggie McDaniels has shown them that males can do just as much as females when it comes to cheerleading.

Cheerleading is not about how attractive you are, but how hard you work. Cheerleaders have always been stereotyped as being all about the looks and popularity, but guess what? It is not true. Not for even a second. You have to love what your doing. You can not do it just for the popularity. It takes time and patience to achieve excellence and the Northside Eagles are here to show you that it can be achieved.

Their excitement brings joy to more than just the cheerleaders themselves. It brings pride to the school.

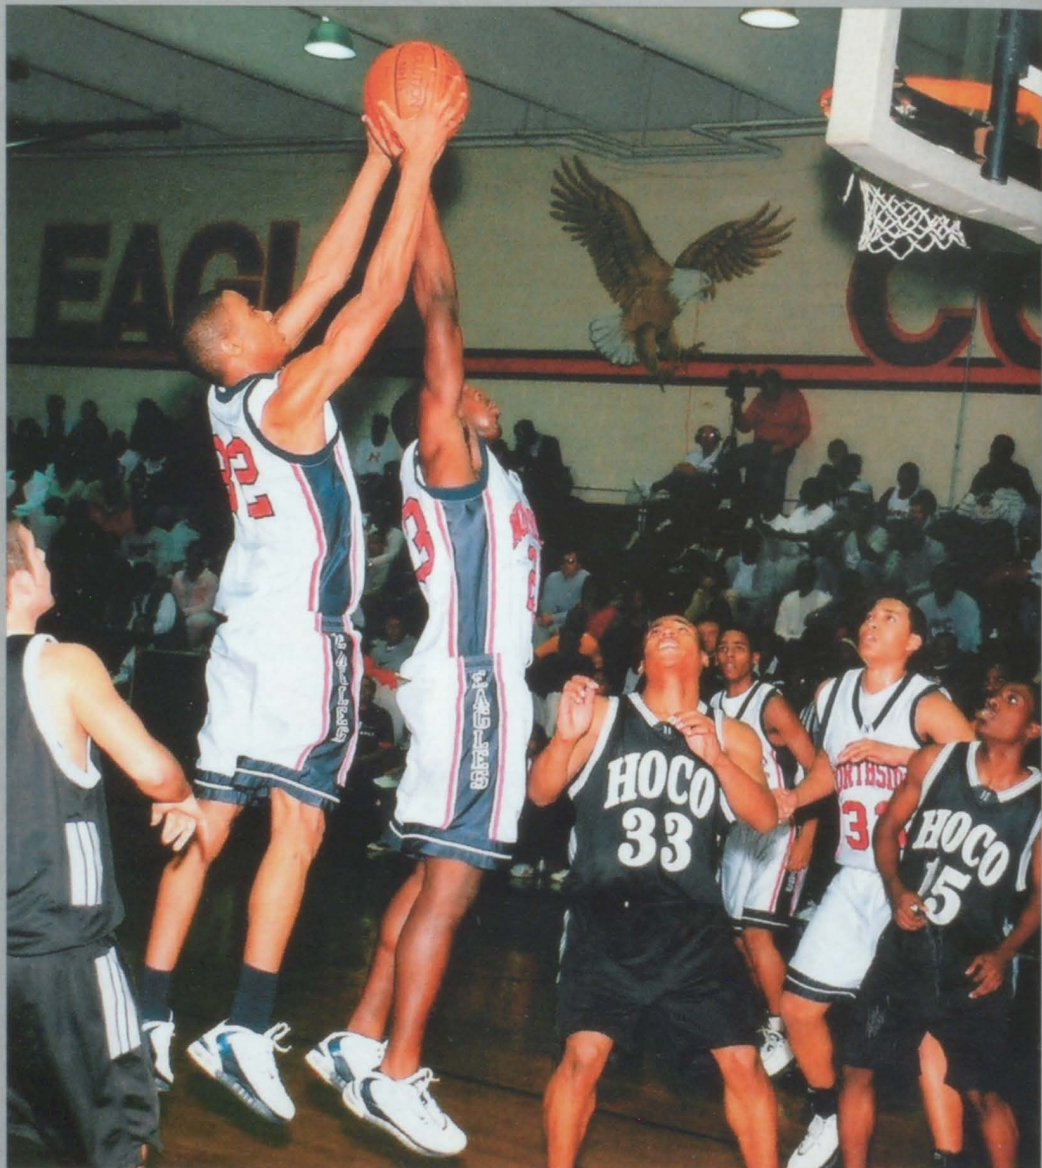

Left: " Let's Go Eagles. Let's Go Big Blue."

Northside scores another basket against their rivals from Houston County.

Anthony Williams drives to the hole to score a lay-up against Houston County.

"We work together as a team on and off the court. There are no individuals on the court and that is why we are so successful this year. We make hard work our passion. It's all about guts at the end!"

-Shauna Defreitas

"We all are playing as a team instead of individuals, that's why we have become more and more successful."

"It was a great group of girls and we had a lot of fun"

The Lady Eagle softball team had an impressive year, with an exceptional 17-13 total record. They dominated the field twice when playing the Warner Robins Demonettes by scoring 6-2 and 7-5. Not only did the girls show a bond on the field with their many wins and accomplishments, they bonded off the field as well. Although hard to believe with their different backgrounds and age-groups, all of The Lady Eagles formed a close friendship with one another. They became closer while attending the first softball class together during their 6th period together, and they also went on three traveling trips where they had a blast spending time with each other. With an awesome defense and full support of each other, it is definitely safe to say that the Lady Eagles had a great year!

"It was a great season for me and I learned a lot but I only wish I would have started sooner."

To be a wrestler, you need mental stamina, discipline, dedication, and the desire to win. Our 2003-2004 wrestlers each maintain these qualities and more. From the Eagle Classic to the Region Competition, and even as far up as the State Competition, the Northside wrestlers have competed and defeated. Many of them cannot wait until the next season, and neither can the fans.

The 2004 Swim Team Team made many accomplishments this year. We would like to congratulate the Senior Swimmers- Chris Wolfe, David Borreson, Trey Leverett, Elizabeth Harlow, Jessica Taylor and Katie Taylor, on a great year. These swimmers, as well as many others on the team, did an excellent job representing Northside at all the meets and working hard. In fact, many of the good swimmers are freshmen and sophmores, so Northside swimming will continue to excel.

A Few More Faces of Victory . . .

Events

"Faces and Places"

"Magic To Do"

For many people, standing in front of a full auditorium and five critical judges can be an unnerving experience. However, senior Tia Rouse looked fear straight in the face to take on the title of Miss Northside 2003. Twenty-nine other girls faced these same fears with Tia, but in the end the senior talent and informal winner took home the crown.

The two magical nights of competition opened up with Rodney Corbin, along with the Ensemble, singing "Magic to Do," as the thirty beautiful competitors danced and paraded around him. The audience was mesmerized as the girls began showcasing the variety of talents they each possessed. From golden voices to graceful dancing, everyone represented Northside High School with poise and maturity. Taking home the trophies and the triumph as being the best in talent were: third runner-up senior Darcy Cain, second runner-up senior Terah Talley and talent winner senior Tia Rouse.

Informal competition and formalwear competition comprised the final night of the Miss Northside competition. Using their wits and charm, each girl prepared a short portrayal of their character, each associated with the theme of magic. Taking yet another victory, it was Tia Rouse who won the informal competition with her portrayal of the Magic Schoolbus. Finally the evening concluded with the formalwear portion as each girl recognized their sponsor. Though each girl shone brightly in their gowns, it was junior Mallory Brown who caught the judges' eyes to take home first place in the formalwear competition.

Though the audience only saw the competition which took place on the stage of the Ray Horne Theatre, the girls worked hard offstage as well to compete for the title of Miss Northside. Besides the numerous hours of hard work each girl put in to practice for the two big nights, two parts of the competition were completed offstage as well. The application was the girls' chance to display all of their achievements and involvement in the school and community. Mallory Brown's application was the one that stood out, allowing her to win the application portion.

Also imperative to the decision of the winners is the interview with the judges. Saturday morning was just as important as Saturday night, as each girl took their turn to charm the judges and win them over. When it was all said and done, it was Jazmyn Brawner's charm that named her Interview winner.

One winner is chosen not by the judges, but by the girls in the pageant. Miss Congeniality is the girl voted as the friendliest and most congenial of the thirty contestants. Darcy Cain was chosen for this honor by her fellow competitors.

Finally the top ten were announced and given the opportunity to answer an impromptu question, possibly giving them the edge to win Miss Northside. In no particular order these girls were Tia Rouse, Mallory

Brown, Jazmyn Brawner, Jessi Kinsler, Terah Talley, Crystal Lowder, Mae Seales, Darcy Cain, Erynn Jones and Miranda Brown.

And now for the top five....drum roll please! As seen to your right, the top five were: fourth runner-up Terah Talley, third runner-up Jessi Kinsler, second runner-up Jazmyn Brawner, first runner-up Mallory Brown and Miss Northside 2003 Tia Rouse. Congratulations to all of the Miss Northside Pageant 2003 contestants!

HOMECOMING 2003

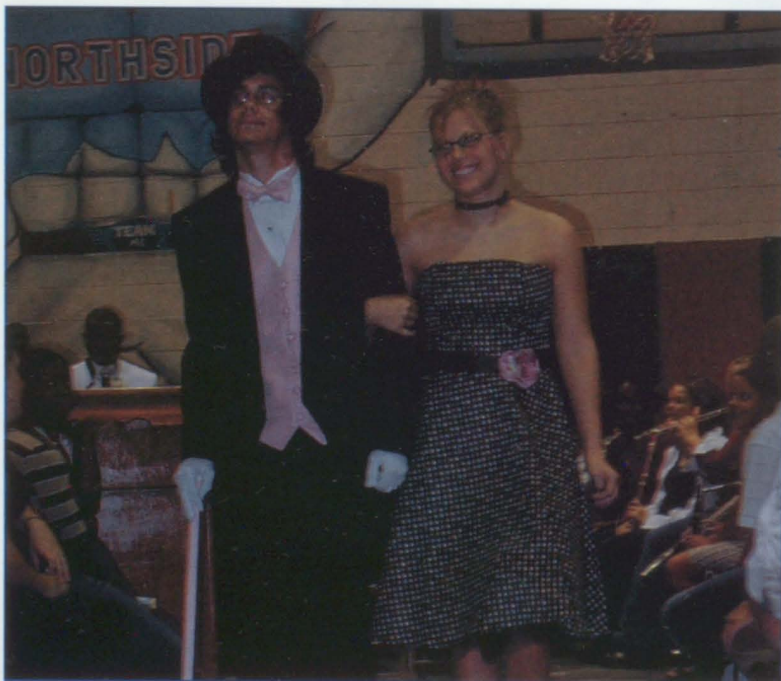

Assembly

Crowning of the Queen, a huge football victory and visitation of Northside alumni all come together to create the Homecoming festivities. Homecoming is the time to honor those senior football players, cheerleaders and band members who work so hard to exemplify Northside's tradition of excellence.

The theme of this year was "A New Day," sung beautifully by Northside's ensemble to begin the Thursday morning assembly. Each day is a new day for students here to show just how great it is to be a Northside Eagle. Another feature of the assembly was the voices of Geoff Felts, Kenneth Hubbard and Brandon Respress coming together to sing "Flying Without Wings."

The football game shows off Northside's tradition of school spirit, creating a legacy for the past years and years to come. Every single aspect of Northside is special, and this is a time during which we celebrate them.

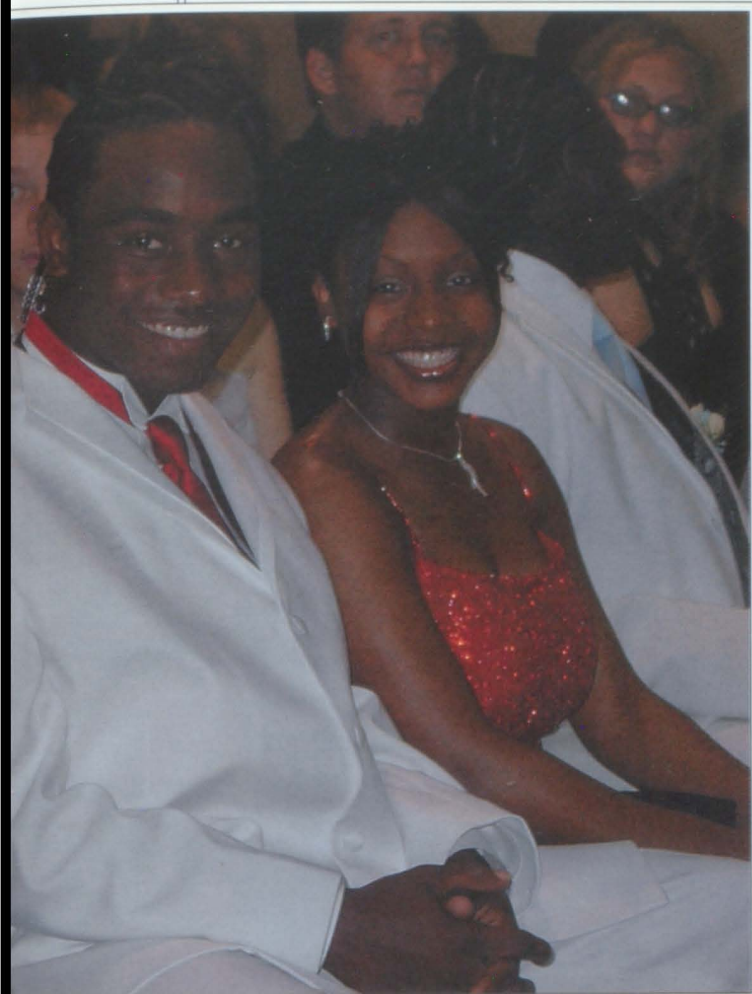

Each day is "A New Day" for each individual to strive hard to be the best eagle they can be and to show the community just how great it is to be a Northside Eagle.

Murder. Greed. Corruption. These are only a few of the words that describe Northside's One-Act, "Chicago." The cast and crew did a magnificent job, landing them 1st place in region for the 30th consecutive time and 3rd in state competition!

Set in the roaring 20's, "Chicago" is a comedy/drama about a chorus girl, Roxie Hart, who, after cheating on her husband Amos, shoots her unfaithful lover, landing her in jail. There she meets Velma Kelly, a fellow murderess who is currently enjoying the media attention and legal manipulation of Billy Flynn, king of the old "Razzle Dazzle."

However, anger strikes in Velma when Billy decides to take Roxie's case over hers, making Velma old news. Billy changes her story for consumption by sympathetic tabloid columnist Mary Sunshine, who always tries to find a little bit of good in everyone.

Roxie becomes the new toast of Chicago. Velma tries to talk Roxie into recreating the sister act, but Roxie turns her down, only to find her own headlines replaced by the latest crime of passion. Roxie decides that being pregnant in prison would put her back on the front page, and it does. A little shy on the arithmetic, Amos proudly claims paternity, but nobody notices him.

In the end, a more sensational crime hits the newspapers and leaves both Roxie and Velma to team up together themselves, creating a fantastic duo no one would ever forget.

spirit week

Spirit week is always the most popular week of school for the students and faculty. This fun-filled week prepares us for the big rival game against the Warner Robins Demons. Spirit week is always a blast at Northside and this year was no exception.

The first day of this crazy week was "Celebrity Day." On this particular day, students were given the privilege of dressing up as his/her favorite celebrity ranging from actual people to crazy cartoons.

The second day was "Send 'Em Back Day." A flashback from the 50's to the 80's was very much present everywhere you looked.

"Camo Day" was the third day of spirit week. Students camouflaged themselves to hunt down those dirty Demons.

"Mourn the Demons Day" was the following day. Students attended a funeral for the Demons where Coach Byrd and Coach Wilson lead the massive service with a mournful delight.

The very last day of spirit week was perhaps the most exciting for many. Everyone in the school dressed up in blue and white to show their eagle pride for the game to be played that night.

The pep rallies we had during Spirit Week pumped up the school's spirit quite a bit. Every morning before school and also at break, the drumline would play beats to hype everyone up for the days activities. Friday morning we had a surprise pep rally in which we all exited to the front of the building where the administrators were on the roof dancing and cheering for Northside.

That night at the game our spirit soared in the stands and on the field. The cheerleaders and the Northside Boys lead the crowd in cheers as they cheered and ran up and down the field. The football players played an excellent game, and once again Northside defeated the Demons with a 37-16 victory!

Madrigal Dinner

On December 12th, 2003 the Northside High School Ensemble and Concert Chorus entertained guests at the 2nd annual Madrigal Dinner. The students, under the direction of conductor Debra Helman, sang several Christmas carols and also regaled the audience with a special a capella concert. The students donned madrigal style costumes and played the parts of lords and ladies. The audience truly experienced an evening like that of one long ago. It was complete with squires, a dining hall and even court jesters. The students and teachers worked tirelessly to create a magical evening. Handpainted decorations were used to transform the cafeteria to provide the audience with a royal dining experience. Senior Ball 2004

Brandon DeCardenas and Daniel Garnto have a chat while they cool off from hours of dancing.

On March 6, 2004 the senior class arrived to a place called Paradise. The Senior Exec. had transformed the lobby in the wonderful island of Hawaii.

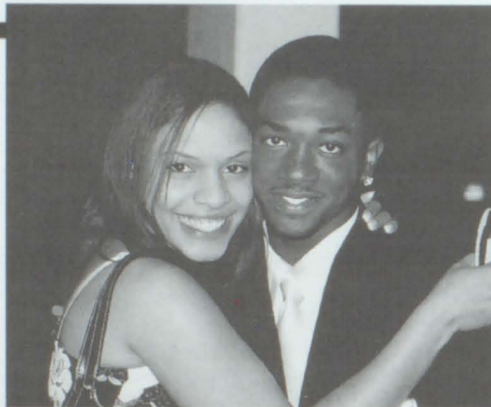

The seniors entered through a path of candle lit buckets. As they walked through the door, they were given leis. Surfboards, beach balls, sandals, and balloons were all over the place sure to make all start dreaming of Spring Break.

The upstairs lobby was designated the dance floor. Downstairs was used as the gathering area or for "cooling off" after hot dancing.

At the end of the night, the seniors did not want to go home, but after the final song, a slow song for all the lovers, the tide came in.

After all was said and done, the senior class of 2004 sung the Alma Mater as they left.

As the Dinner Theater got underway, the audience was entertained by many members of the Thespian Troupe 2892. Some of the entertainment included performances by Michael Leahy, Tarah Talley, Luther Jackson, Jessi Kinsler, Amy Oldham, and Greg Rottman. The troupe members performed such things as musical numbers, monologues, and scenes from plays. After dinner, the audience walked to the theater to watch Northside's region winning play "Chicago." Northside's Thespians showed their stuff for sold out audiences on both nights, proving that our Theatre program is second to none!

Military Ball Assembly

This year's Military Ball was an extravagant display of decorations and hard work. The stands were packed with students from top to bottom, and the floor was a sea of blue with the AFJROTC sitting on each side of the aisle that the future 11th grade queen would grace. The gymnasium was transformed into a fun yet elegant scene from a fairytale ball with beautiful balloons and confetti lining the walkway. The MC's of the evening were Porscha Johnson and Tashanda Cambell who kept the assembly going despite minor technical difficulties. The band lightened the already exciting mood of the day with a flawless performance Outkast's Hey Ya and other lively songs. Each girl walked gracefully down the aisle with her escort, briefly stopping at the end to take a moment to smile for the camera despite the ear-ringing applause and congratulations from the student body. Then the applause died down, only to begin even louder when the 2003's ROTC queen Valleria Felder, escorted by the 2004 ROTC king Herbert Taylor, walked down the aisle. Next, David Goodloe and Donald Black each demonstrated their individual exhibition routines. And after seemingly endless applause and whistles of approval, the moment that everyone was waiting for, but with not as much anticipation as the three junior girls, the announcement of the ROTC queen came. Then Lisa Spangler's name was called as applause rang throughout the gymnasium. Then the "crowning" of her as queen took place when Valleria handed over her bouquet of flowers and chair to Lisa.

Military Ball

Dancing. Chatter. Music. Laughter. What do these four things have in common? The 2004 Military Ball-that's what. Students from all four local high schools gather once a year to show camaraderie, friendship and just a little bit of romance on the weekend of Valentine's Day-how appropriate. Senior Porscha Johnson said, "I loved the live band because they played the songs I know." Other students just loved having the opportunity to dress up. While for the males that only means wearing their typical blue uniforms, the females get to have a little more fun in evening gowns and party dresses. But this dance is more than just a chance to look good, it is a chance to show one's commitment to the betterment of our nation through involvement in ROTC and a chance to get together with students from other schools who are involved in the same thing. As Daniel Adams explains, "I love to enjoy the atmosphere of the ball, where everyone is happy and enjoying themselves and can forget about the stresses of school life." From the looks of things, these cadets know how to put competition and school aside and have a great time.

MR. NORTHSIDE

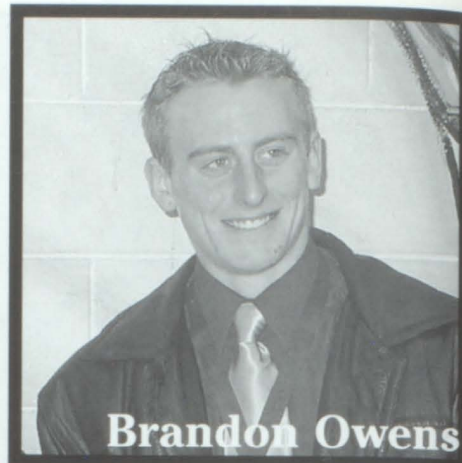

Logan Harris

The Mr. Northside assembly is a tradition at Northside High School. Each year, Senior young men at our school vie for the title, "Mr. Northside." The winner receives a scholarship along with his title, which supports his future in college. To win the title, they must perform well in the following areas: student vote, teacher vote, application, interview, impromptu speaking, and academics.

This year, the ten contestants were Brandon Respress, Seth Jackson, Logan Harris, Deontai Price, Kenneth Hubbard, Michael Leahy, Steven Lewis, Peter Tran, Chad Hampton, and Brandon Owens. Logan Harris won the title and was named Mr. Northside for 2004. The other winners were First Runner-Up Brandon Owens, Second Runner-Up Peter Tran, Third Runner-Up Seth Jackson, and Fourth Runner-Up Deontai Price. It was a close competition because all of the contestants were outstanding Eagles.

Clubs & Organizations

"We Faced It Together"

Air Force Junior Reserve Officer Training Corps ROTC

AFJROTC stands for Air Force Junior Reserve Officer Training Corps. ROTC is the biggest organization in high school that brings people of all races, ethnicity, and social groups together. Know why? Because you don't have to be able to jump six feet into the air or hit a ball out of the park. All a student has to do is be willing to try his/her best and be willing to discipline themselves as well as lead by example. This is also an organization that has one mission: to help make better citizens of America, which ROTC maintains everyday here at Northside's GA 62 organization. The cadets of ROTC are very much like one big happy family. Even though many cadets of ROTC are portrayed as being military brats, this is not completely true. ROTC is an amazing organization that is composed of many different extracurricular activities. Some of them are Demil, Facsimile, Color Guard, Unarmed, Kitty Hawk, Rocketry, Honor Guard, Sabre Team, and APT. The cadets of ROTC also frequently travel to drill meets and other events. Community service is a major part of ROTC. Some of the community services are stadium clean-ups, blood drives, as well as a variety of other events.

"There is a dedication, a firmness, to get fixed on a goal that translated into their lives, no matter if its working with us, working at Burger King, or playing football"-Lt./Col. Winge

M BAND

R C H I N G

Our Alma Mater, Mr. Touchdown, the Jaws tune-none of these would be familiar without our Blue Wind Marching Band. Members of the band dedicate summer days and numerous after-school hours to perfect these songs, just a few of the many tunes with which we are all familiar. The band is there when we enter a pep rally, as well as long after; they spend nearly every Friday night in the fall with our football team and give up many Saturdays for the sake of competition.

Seniors Jazmyn Brawner and Chris Von Almen, along with junior Mallory Brown, led the band this year as drum majors for the award-winning show, "American Heroes." Every hero from Batman and Superman to the heroes of 9/11 was honored during this captivating show, with a special ending of a huge American flag spread across the football field.

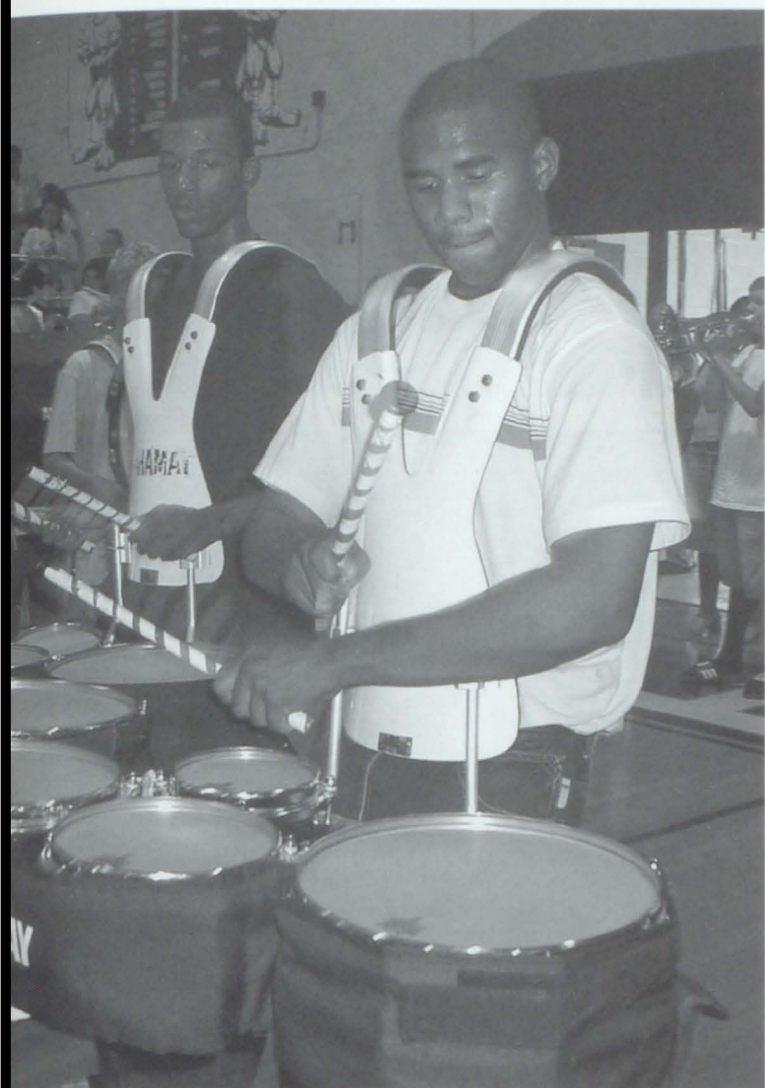

The Blue Wind Marching Band provides Northside loads of spirit, Eagle pride and great entertainment. Spirit during the pep rallies and football games-what would a pep rally be without loud music to pump everyone up, or what would a touchdown be without Mr. Touchdown immediately following? Not only would the cheerleaders have nothing to dance to, neither would the color guard or anyone else in the student body. Eagle pride from all of their many accomplishments. Numerous members were chosen for District Honor Band and the band as a whole accepted accolades for their performances. Great entertainment-no explanation needed for anyone who has heard or seen anything from our Blue Wind Marching Band!

Color Guard

The NHS Color Guard performed exceptionally well this year. The Guard received superior ratings at two of three contests this year, which is quite an accomplishment considering over half of the Color Guard members were brand new. They received Superior Auxillary at the Southern Open Band Contest and at the Invitational Band Contest. The Color Guard also performed its most challenging work to date and added a rifle line to the mix.

Led by Mr. Geldreich, the Art Club has decorated several of Northside's finest events. The talented students designed the gorgeous spirit banners which you see at all of the football games. They also decorated for the Madrigal Dinner in December, creating a romantic atmosphere for the event. Club president, Charlotte Okie, won Best in the category of "3D Art/Other" at the Georgia National Fair. Many of the members were nominated for prestigious art awards. In the future, they plan to paint murals in several areas around the school and continue with their beautiful work.

2004 Convention

The interpretation of the Beta Emblem

The letter "B" on an ebony background surrounded by a border of gold is the most prominent feature of the emblem. This letter is the initial character of the Greek word Bios, which means "life." Life is a prerequisite to growth and progress. The National Beta Club stands for a full life—one governed by the highest principles.

Above the letter "B" on the emblem there appear three stars, which represent the spiritual side of human life in the specific traits of unselfishness, honesty, and courage. Their presence at the top of the emblem is a reminder that spiritual well-being has an important place in the ideals which are embodied in the organization.

Loyalty to country and the principles upon which it was founded are signified by an eagle without spread wings which stands below the letter "B." Beta members pledge themselves to "a sense of responsibility to our...nation."

The background of ebony on which these symbols are displayed represents the dignity, restraint, and seriousness which should attend our search for knowledge and truth.

Around the emblem there is a border of gold—the gold of friendship and brotherhood, without which life would lose much of its rich and full meaning.

The Beta Club insignia is composed of the emblem (the central feature), a knight's head, and a lettered scroll.

The knight's head was designed to represent nobility of personality in recognizing the inherent dignity of every human being.

The attributes of the Beta Club are written within the scroll, Achievement, Character, and Leadership.

German

What was the most fun you ever had at a BETA event?

"The most fun I ever had was at the Kumbaya campfires that were held in the elevator at the BETA Convention in Atlanta."

What do you like about BETA Club?

"I like it because we kind-hearted, intelligent people get to go out and make the community a better place to live in with such events as the DAWG JAWG and The March of Dimes."

The Ensemble is comprised of students having the strong desire to develop their vocal abilities by working in a smaller mixed group. The Ensemble performs along with the Concert Choir when a large choral sound is most desired. The group is featured in the "Miss Northside" pageant and Homecoming assembly. The singers are perhaps best known for their performances of "Happy Birthday" to their friends and faculty. During the holiday season, the Ensemble is transformed into a Renaissance style group of Lords and Ladies for the Madrigal Dinner. Members of the Ensemble and Concert Choir also had the great opportunity this year to perform in Orlando for Disney's Magic Music Days" during April. It was an honor to be selected to represent Northside at this special event and lifelong memories were created!

The choral music program consists of three performing groups of varying styles and ability levels. The Concert Choir is currently a 50-voice mixed group which performs in the annual Choral Extravaganza, GMEA District XI Large Group Festival, seasonal concerts, and school events. The students are also encouraged to audition for All-State Chorus and throughout the year.

The French Club is a small group students who get together on Wednesday mornings to enrich the community with the French culture and language. The French Club has truly reached out to the community with its various activities. The students help out with afterschool programs at elementary schools, collect and volunteers at the local dog shelter, and tutors French students who are having problems grasping the language.

The members, officers, and Madame Borek (the French Club sponsor) enjoy the time they spend together and the time they have had helping the community. Together they have defined the term, Joie De Vivre.

Every year Northside High School hosts an average number of eight exchange students from all over the world. This year we had seven students from countries like Mexico, Japan, and Germany. The reasons for spending an academic year abroad are very broad; getting to know a new culture and new people, improving language skills, and being independent from home are just some of them. "Spending a year in the United States is an awesome experience and everything is so different. I really like the great choice of subjects in school", says Lena Oppitz, a foreign exchange student from Germany. "The best thing so far were the football games and the included school spirit", conclude Bianca and Katharina, also from Germany. There are a lot of differences to the students' home countries. For example, Akiko Murakami from Japan is attending a school just for girls back home.

Our exchange students were greatly involved, from the two boys on the Swim and Soccer Teams to Interact, Spanish Club, and even helping younger kids in the Mentoring Program. Mentor Catharina Pilz says "Going to the elementary schools and working with the children is a lot of fun and I don't have the possibilities to do this and a whole lot of other stuff I can do here at my school in Germany."

Members of the Northside High School Debate Team have enjoyed an outstanding season in 2003-2004, as they have debated the topic of "ocean policy". The varsity team of D.J. Hatton (team captain) and Katie Taylor won the varsity division of compition at Perry High School and Thomas County Central. They also qualified for the prestigious Richard B. Russell Georgia Allstate Tournament by reaching Semi-Finals at Thomas County.

Most students are also enrolled in the Marketing co-op program, leaving school early for work and still earning school credit. Students learn and build from the four points of the DECA diamond - leadership development, civil consciousness, vocational understanding, and social intelligence. Members get to travel and participate in leadership conference, competitions, and community service. This year, students donated items to send overseas at Christmas and sold shamrocks for the Muscular Dystrophy Association in March.

For the fifth straight year, Northside played host to the region DECA competition in February. Thirteen students advanced to March's State competition in Atlanta, with winners advancing to the International DECA Conference in Nashville, Tennessee in May.

"Think Globally, Act Locally"

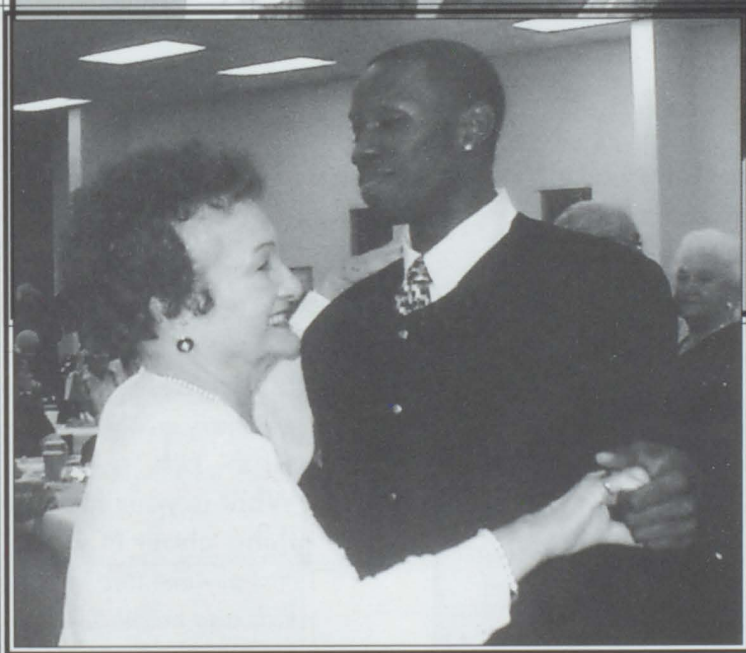

Interact's motto for this year sums up the club's focus on improving their community world-wide. With about 35-40 members, Interact is always busy supporting the school, local, and world community. The Interact book drive, the club's first community activity headed by Projects Chair Chad Hampton resulted in an astounding 2000 children's books collected from Northside students and donated to local boys' and girls' clubs. Peter Tran, Vice President, helped organize Interact's annual trip to the hospital, which gives members the opportunities to spread smiles to children's faces as member dress up in Halloween costumes and hand out bags of candy put together by Interact members. All officers and members were excited and ready to participate in the community's senior ball, which proved to be one of the most enjoyable activities of the year. As the members served food and danced with senior citizens, they gained a new appreciation for our local community. With a think globally, act locally challenge, Interact is always busy doing something in the surrounding communities.

What am I: Helping to make a difference while uplifting and working for the community?

If you guessed JOOI, Junior Optimist Octagon International, you were correct! JOOI club has completed fun community projects and activities to help better the lives of its residents here at Northside for the past three years. JOOI has participated in quite a few projects for the 03-04 school year. Ever hear of Coats for Kids? Coats for Kids was a JOOI club project in which 37 coats for needy children were collected. In November, the club participated in the Dawg Jawg to raise money for the animal shelter. March of Dimes was a great project last year, raising over $400 and the club plans to raise even more this year. In October JOOI participated in the Mossy Creek festival, as well as sending 39lbs. of supplies to our troops in Afghanistan. All together JOOI has raised over $2000.00 for the community.

SADD CLUB

SADD Club's team of officers are Sarah Robbins, Brittany Cummings, Mallory Brown, and Jessi Martin.

Students Against Destructive Decisions (SADD Club) has been an integral part of Northside for many years now. With its many activities, SADD Club has made all of Northside mindful of the consequences that bad decision-making can cause. One of SADD Club's most known activities, "Ghost Out," makes students more aware of the fatal outcome of driving while intoxicated. SADD members take turns "dying" every thirty minutes during the school day. Their silent presence and ghost-white faces serve as a reminder to never drink and drive. Other activities include "Lights On For Life," "Prom Promise," and "Red Ribbon Week." SADD Club has surely stopped the occurrence of horrible tragedies by making all students aware of their actions.

This year for the first time, students had to submit applications to be members of the Student Council and these students pictured are the ones who made the cut and worked wonderfully as the 2003-2004 Student Council.

Northside High's drama department is an organization for all theatre lovers, headed up by director, Mr. Barnett. Each year, thespians get to participate in two plays, a one-act and a spring musical. Those who are in one-act get to compete in a region competition, where if they win (which they always do!) get to advance to state competition. The Spring Musical, in which many students are involved, is also a big hit every year. Also each year, thespians go to a conference, where other thespians from all over the state of Georgia meet and participate in many workshops which help to develop their artistic qualities. Thespian Troupe 2892 is the best and always will be!

Dear Michael,
 The second day of November 1985 was a very special day. You came into this world with a big "hello"!
 Jon had a little brother and our family was complete. You had a smile that could melt anybody's heart.
 As the years went by they called you cute, sweet, handsome, funny, talented, crazy, wild, stubborn and "most unique". You didn't care what people thought when your hair was green, blue, blonde, black, long, spiked, or a little bit of everything.
 You tell people just how it is. No lies, no "sugar-coating", just the facts.
 Those who judged the book by it's cover, well, those are the ones who missed out on meeting the softer side of you. You listen for hours to a friend who's troubled or take them to dinner or a movie to cheer them up.
 You speak to the kid who's not in the
 "in-crowd" to make him feel welcomed and give him a ride when no one else will.

You grew up into a wonderful, loving person with a lot of good qualities, showing your true individuality.
 Don't change a thing, because we love you just the way you are.

Congratulations
 Much love,
 Mom, Dad, and Jon

CLIMB
'TIL YOUR DREAM COMES TRUE

Often your tasks will be many,
And more than you think you can do . . .
Often the road will be rugged
And the hills insurmountable, too . . .
But always remember, the hills ahead
Are never as steep as they seem,
And with Faith in your heart start upward
And climb 'til you reach your dream,
For nothing in life that is worthy
Is ever too hard to achieve
If you have the courage to try it
And you have the Faith to believe . . .
For Faith is a force that is greater Than knowledge or power or skill
And many defeats turn to triumph
If you trust in God's wisdom and will . . .
For Faith is a mover of mountains,
There's nothing that God cannot do,
So start out today with Faith in your heart
And "Climb 'Til Your Dream Comes True!"

Sarah Elizabeth Robbins

Born 2:22pm August 30, 1986, two weeks late.

Slept all night since you were four days old.

Walked at ten months.

First word was "No." (Imagine that!)

At four, sang "I Got Friends in Low Places" in church because it was the only song you knew all the words to.

At ten, broke both arms and insisted on pink cast.

At fifteen, taught your mother that driving is an amazing adventure.

You have always done things in your own time in your own special way.

Believe it or not, we hope that never changes.

May the sun always be at your back,

May the breeze always be in your face,

May the road rise up to meet each and every step you make.

Never miss the opportunity to dance.

Always look at life for what it is, a journey.

We Love You,
Mom, Dad, and Taylor
(and Molly)

Tabitha Neoma Hannah

We were all blessed by God on July 20, 1986,
when a beautiful little girl
came into our lives. You have brought us joy, laughter, and experience the last 17 years. We are all proud of you, you have reached many milestones
but today is the biggest one thus far. Keep dreaming and reaching for your goals,
and they all will come true.

*I hope you never lose your sense of wonder
You get the fill to eat but always keep that hunger
May you never take one single breath for granted
God forbid love ever leave you empty handed
I hope you still feel small when you stand beside the ocean
When ever one door closes I hope one more opens Promise me you'll give faith a fighting chance
And when you get the chance to sit it out or dance
I HOPE YOU DANCE*

*I hope you never fear those mountains in the distance
Never settle for the path of least resistance Living might mean taking chances but they're worth taking Lovin' might be a mistake but its worth making Don't let some hell bent heart leave you bitter
When you come close to selling out reconsider
Give the Heavens above more than just a passing glance
And when you get the choice to sit it out or dance
I HOPE YOU DANCE !*

LARA COLEMAN

.....

Dear Lara,

From the moment of your birth, you added the "Completeness" to our family. We are so proud of the strong young woman you've become. You have faced and met numerous challenges in your life...

- * Being the "baby" of the family
- * Having two big brothers who lovingly tease you
- * Having a big sister - seven years older than you
- * Attending TEN different schools
- * Having a Marine for a Daddy - who was deployed too often
- * Having a mother who was pulled in many directions

Through it all, our prayer is that you also recognize the many blessings in your life...

- * Being the "baby" of the family
- * Having two big brothers who have always loved you and protected you
- * Having a big sister who enjoys being your best friend
- * Having the opportunities to go to new and exciting places and make new friends
- * Having a Marine for a Daddy, who loves God, Family, and Country (You will always be his little LaLeeBoo!)
- * Having a Mother who remembers and relishes every minute of your sweet life

Our hope is that you will always see life through your many blessings! You have certainly been one of the greatest blessings in our lives! Congratulations on your high school graduation!

You have the brains in your head.
You have feet in your shoes.
You can steer yourself
any direction you choose...

Out there things can happen and frequently do
to people as brainy
and footsy as you...

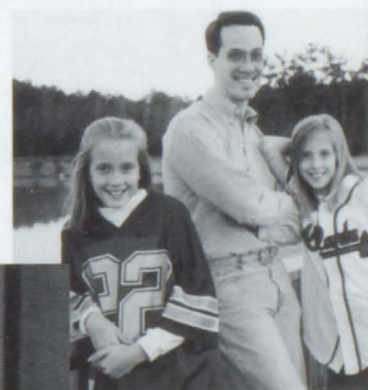

And when things start to happen,
Don't worry. Don't stew.
Just go right along.
You'll start happening too...

You'll be on your way up!
You'll be seeing great sights!
You'll join the high fliers who soar to high heights...

And will succeed?
Yes! You will, indeed!

Whitni-

May the Good Lord be with you Down every road you roam
and may sunshine and happiness surround you when you're far from home and may you grow to be proud dignified and true
and do unto others
as you'd have done to you
be courageous and brave and in joy that you'll always be Forever young, Forever young

May you continue to with you may you find that be strong but a trail way to heaven with a prince or a vagabond and may you never love in vain and in my heart you will remain

Forever young, Forever young

and when you finally fly away
I'll be hoping that I serve you well for all the wisdom of a lifetime
no one can ever tell

but whatever road you choose
I'm right behind you, win or lose
Forever young, Forever young

You wanted to try something different for your Senior year in high school, so you moved from Michigan down to Georgia with your Aunt and Uncle for your last year of high school.
That was an awesome decision.

I'm extremely proud of all your academic and athletic accomplishments throughout the years. You have accomplished so much in one year at Northside High School; from R.O.T.C. and Drill Team, to Swim Team and your excellent grades. You've come a long way, Babygirl!

Congratulations, may all your dreams
now become your reality.

Enjoy your day, you've definitely earned it!

How can we ever show you our appreciation and gratitude for the distance you've gone for "our" girl
How do we ever thank you for the offer to make Whitney's senior year in Georgia a reality for her. You opened up your hearts, your home and shared your lives with Whitney over the 2003-2004 school year. You have shown and provided her with unconditional love, support and encouragement. You have given gift from your hearts, a gift that she will always carry and treasure within herself.

thank you for being

What I will remember most about the 2004 Senior Exec

Kenneth Hubbard-Your calmness in all situations and your ability to get Seniors to do what needed to be done.

Seth Jackson and Crystal Davis-Your inability to work together without fussing and fighting. You were like an old married couple—funny and fun to be around.

India McKenzie-You were the “new” officer on board but you worked like you had been an officer for years.

Peter Tran-You have that “Tran” trait of handling Senior Class money like a pro and your personality is a most unique one. There is only one Peter Tran.

LaTeasa Billings-Your kindness towards me at all times even when I didn’t remember your name.

Jazmyn Brawner-Your beautiful smile and your faith in me in all that I did.

Miranda Brown-Your “grandpa” and all the times he brought you food when we were working late on spirit decorations.

Savanna Cooper-We have that diabetic bond. I am proud that you are not letting this disease keep you from being all that you can be.

Brandon DeCardenas-Your unwavering senior class spirit, your endless spirit for Northside and, of course, BLT.

Rosina Ezell-The quiet manner in which you excelled in everything you did for Senior Exec.

Logan Harris-The fact that you always remembered that we were cheering for Northside first and the Senior Class second, our many talks, and your absolute surprise at being named Mr. Northside.

Rodrick Hayward-With all that you have going for you; you never let it go to your head. You never thought you were better than anyone else.

Luther Jackson-Your love for the Class of 2004 and your crazy but well-intentioned ideas.

Sarah Laughlin-Your crazy demeanor and your wide-eyed innocence.

Micheal Leahy-Your free spirit and your many unique outfits especially during Spirit Week.

Steven Lewis-The way you always do what you are supposed to do and never want or expect any attention or recognition.

Maurice Nelson-Your ability to stick with something until it is done, no matter how boring or monotonous it may become.

Tiffany Nelson-Your desire to see everyone’s viewpoint even if it is not your own and accepting the decision of the group even if it is not what you wanted.

Mae Seales-No matter what I asked of you, you did it right the first time. Your work was always beautiful.

Candace Smith-Your pleasant personality and your ability to work hard without complaining.

Keri Thornburg-Your uncanny ability to work quickly and efficiently and the beautiful lettering you did for Senior Class decorations many, many times.

Megan Tinnin-How well you did everything and, like Steven, you never sought recognition.

Guy Waggle-Your Northside spirit, your hard work, and that crazy smile you always had on your face.

Lindsey Wright-My precious, precious child, I have depended on you more than anyone else this year.

Like your aunt, you are true and loyal, and both the Senior Class and I are blessed that we had you as a part of our lives.

Rikki Yeomans-You are, without a doubt, the most creative Senior Exec person with whom I have ever worked. Your crazy wit and your unique ideas added to all that we did.

BLT to me stands for Beautiful and Loving Teens who have honored me by allowing me to be your Senior Class Sponsor.

I thank you for everything, and I love you dearly,
Ms. Judy Moore

LETTERS FROM

You know how adults always say to enjoy your high school years because they fly by? Well dern it if they weren't right! As these past four years have flown by for me, I can never replace the priceless friendships and memories that I have made. Northside High School, and all of you in it, have left a great, lasting impression in my heart. I hope our book can be a visual aid and reminder of the people and memories that have left impressions on each of you. A quality book for everyone was what we hoped to achieve as a journalism staff, and I sincerely hope you appreciate our efforts. I would like to go ahead and apologize for any grammatical error (should you even notice them) or if we happened to misspell your name-we tried!

Now for my thank-you's. First and foremost to Mrs. Branch for working with us and persevering to complete a quality yearbook. To Meg for being my co-editor because this sure ain't a one person job and I couldn't have done it alone. I love ya! To the entire journalism staff for putting up with the occasional stressed-out bossiness and working so hard. Good luck to Daniel and Annie next year. To my family for loving and putting up with me-I love y'all too! Finally, to all of my wonderful friends-you all are irreplaceable.

Class of 2004-lots of luck after graduation. Underclassmen-enjoy your high school years because they fly by-trust me!

Lotsa Love,

Kermitte Plug

Four years ago I walked through the front doors as a freshman with lots of anxiety and fear. Now two inches taller and four years wiser, it's time to say bye.

As a graduating senior, I understand how valuable these four years are. I know I've grown up over these years.

As editor, I've had the privilege to capture every moment this year-from the laughter to the tears. Times of triumphs and times of unfortunate defeat. Each and every "face in the crowd." Our goal wasn't to create a perfect book, but one that looking back on 20 years from now will make you smile (or cry). I'm sorry if we misspelled your name or left you out of a picture, we tried by putting countless hours into the making of this book.

I owe Mrs. Branch two years of thanks. She has treated me like a daughter and always been prepared with bags of Tootsie Rolls! Thank you to my co-editor and best friend of 12 years, Keri. Thank you for putting up with me all these years and without you all of my sentences would be half-written. A big thank-you to our staff. Without all of them taking our orders, this book would not be half the success that I hope it is. I'd also like to thank all of my teachers who have guided me to achieve my goals and have made me be the best that I can be.

My advice to my brother, Blaine (I love you!), and the rest of the school is to live each day to the fullest and cherish your high school years because they go by so fast. To the class of 2004, good luck!

Love Always,

Megan E. Sinner
